FROM THE DESK OF ANTHONY RILEY

I like to give a nod to the month at hand, it seems like the thing to do. I think I've already burned lamb and lion, so I used some intelligent assistance. From the benefits of AI via Google lifted from The Old Farmers Almanac (such a quaint concept, a book that predicts things), May is: "Known in Anglo-Saxon tradition as Tri-Milchi (cows could be milked three times daily), it is also associated with sheep-shearing festivals." That could be our next neighborhood event.

Speaking of Neighborhood Events, one more shout out to all the people who attended the Spring Fling. Also, thanks to everyone that made the event possible, it was a roaring success. We managed to get several volunteer families for our Meet Your Neighbor article – none for this issue, but I think you will like the featured group. More stories to come! I also met new neighbors and that is the point, to try to create a sense of community that will help us look out for each other.

I had an interesting conversation with one of the Dads who attended. He had paid his Reasonable $25 Dues and he wanted to know, where does that money go? I tried to clarify. First, where it does not go is to anyone on the HOA Board, we too are volunteers. It also did not go to pay for any of those premium beverages at the Spring Fling.

The HOA has a budget, and we carved out a little for events, and we did pay for the free water, the bounce house (Bouncers gotta Bounce!) and the signs that said, "Neighborhood Event Today". We also pay for the plants that decorate the entrances. You might think the Reasonable $25 Dues pay for this fabulous newsletter, but with advertising, a lot of the printing costs are covered. The rest of the budget is for the maintenance of the neighborhood and the costs of having an HOA at all. Meaning to justify the Reasonable $25 Dues, you really need to justify having an HOA. And that is easy.

People who share a common goal and are aware that they are not alone have a much greater chance of accomplishing the goal. And what is the goal of Team Winter Woods Residents? To keep the Winter Woods neighborhood the envy of the area. To keep property values up. To show earned respect and honor to our neighbors and the community we create. Enjoy our newsletters, enjoy the scenic flowers, enjoy the working streetlights, enjoy the fellowship of events and contests, enjoy the safety, enjoy your friends, family and neighbors.

Also, it is Mental Health Awareness Month. I'm just saying. Make a trip out to one of our HOA meetings at 7:00 pm on the second Thursday of every month (except June and July) at South Seminole Church of Christ on Lake Howell Rd or online via zoom. Here's hoping for Showers and Flowers!

MEMBERSHIP—Nell Colbert

Since our last newsletter was published, we've added thirteen new paid memberships—we now have 106 paid HOA members (37.59% of our neighborhood) who are supporting all the wonderful activities like last month's Spring Fling that are planned by our homeowners board.

We have four streets who have surpassed 50% of their homes as HOA members:

- King James Court with 73%
- King Henry's Court with 64%

Many of our streets are very close to that 50% mark! If you haven't paid your 2026 HOA dues, it's not too late even though our membership drive ended in mid-March. We accept dues throughout the year. NEIGHBORHOOD WATCH—Larry Stephey

Some residents have expressed safety concerns about golf carts being ridden on Winter Woods streets and asked about Seminole County ordinances governing their use. Research returned this:

Golf Cart Use on Public Streets in Seminole County, Florida

In Seminole County, golf carts are NOT allowed on public streets unless the County has formally designated that specific road for golf cart use. Most roads in unincorporated Seminole County — including neighborhoods like Winter Woods — are not designated.

Florida law allows golf carts on public roads only when the local government authorizes it, and only on roads with a posted speed limit of 30 mph or less. Seminole County requires a formal designation process, including safety review and County Commission approval, before any road becomes legal for golf cart operation.

Key Points

- Golf carts cannot be driven on Seminole County roads unless those roads appear on the County's official list of designated golf cart facilities.
- Designated roads must have posted signage indicating golf cart operation is permitted.
- Without designation, golf carts are limited to private property, private HOA roads, or golf courses. Winter Woods streets are maintained by Seminole County; they are not private roads.
- Florida Statute 316.212 allows golf carts on public roads only when approved by the local jurisdiction and only on ≤30 mph roads.
- Golf carts do not require registration or insurance, but they must follow any stricter local rules. Low Speed Vehicles (LSVs) are different: they are street legal, must be registered, and may operate on ≤35 mph roads — but only if they meet full safety equipment requirements.

Bottom Line

Only three areas in Seminole County permit golf carts on their streets per the County Code – English Estates, Rolling Hills, and Markham Woods. The write ups to get permission is quite lengthy. There is, however, a single reference in the County's WEB site regarding Golf Carts and where they are permitted.

<https://www.seminolecountyfl.gov/departments-services/public-works/engineering-division/golf-cart-program>

Keeping this in mind, unless Seminole County has officially designated your street for golf cart use — and very few streets are — golf carts are not legal on public roads in unincorporated Seminole County.

For more information, here is the actual ordinance:

Meet Your Neighbor—Anthony Riley

THE BONES FAMILY:

The featured neighbors this month do not actually live in Winter Woods. They are past the Star Wars yard and on the left before you get to the Country Club, and technically, they do not live anywhere. Rescued from the streets of dreams these boarders earn their keep as “character actors” – they do not like the word props.

Homesteading is not their thing, but they were hired for a Halloween yard gig and have found they could stretch the opportunity out with a little creativity. Basing their scene work on holidays or current events, you may have seen them as Pilgrims, Santa and Rudolf, basketball fans, a marriage proposal (apparently this was completely for the arts, and a solid NO was unspoken) and even leprechauns – or at least that was the general read. What you may have missed was some of the other chore work they have engaged in like fixing the roof, mowing the yard, or changing that tire. What you did not see from any of them was walking the dog. When asked, the mere mention of canines really spooked them into quite a chilling silence.

These thespians rattled off quite a resume, hundreds of years of solid work. They have done print work in countless medical journals and books for kids. Also mentioned were the traveling company of Hamlet, several Johnny Depp films, work with Spielberg and many horror films. There was a general lament about no romantic comedies, but they did get call backs for Spinal Tap II and Beetlejuice Beetlejuice. They also claimed to have worked at all the theme parks, which is a humble brag way of saying they were fired from all the theme parks. But no judgement here.

They hope to extend their run, perhaps reaching a full spin around the sun. Future possibilities are World Cup forward and goalie, Fife and Drummer, The Masked Singer and Dancing With the Stars. Currently they can be seen stunningly recreating the ARTEMIS 2 journey. They are available for parties, and they are a cool hang. When getting permission before the interview, it was explained that even though they didn't live in Winter Woods, they still had a story to tell. The reply? We're all neighbors.

STREETS & LIGHTING—Greg Pfister

LIGHTING: Let's start with 2 lights that were called in and repaired the next day; One on Winter Woods Blvd and the other on Sussex Rd. near Tamerine.

SIDEWALKS: Our sidewalks look pretty good! This past Monday I reached out and knocked on a homeowner's door on Winter Woods and talked about the grass overgrowth in front on the rainwater street gutter. We talked about how it sometimes takes 2 people to clear the way so both of us with shovels got the job done. Our drainage just got better on Winter Woods. We made a great team.

Our best friends: I've seen a few posts over the weeks and years about folks walking there dogs and not cleaning up there deposits. This past weekend I experienced what those posts were all about and cleaned up those left behind deposits. I know most of us do the right thing when no one is looking, but to those few who don't - we can do better!!!

Thank you and I hope your Graduations and Vacations are the best!!!
